

EPEA 2015: Call for Training Seminars (interactive workshops)

We welcome all interested in holding a Training Seminar (duration: 1h) to submit in advance a summary or abstract describing its contents, its relevance to the conference theme, how it will engage the attendees to actively participate during the session and any other details considered pertinent for the selection of the submitted proposal. Please fill in this form and send it to epea2015@just.fgov.be by 15th March 2015.

Submissions are to be made in English and should include:

1. Title of the Training Seminar
2. A brief professional biography of the author and co-author(s) intending to participate in the seminar.
3. An abstract or summary of the seminar and a description of how you will engage the attendees to actively participate. (Please keep it concise, no longer than one page.)
4. Technical requirements

The abstract and the professional biography will be submitted to the EPEA Seminar Committee for review. In selecting proposals, priority will be given to those that are clearly related to the conference theme and those bringing forward innovative practices. Interactivity is another key selection criteria. In order to foster enriching debates, we kindly ask you to conduct your training seminar in an interactive and participative manner and to engage the audience as much as possible. Please keep in mind that each seminar will have a duration of 1 hour and that training seminars will be repeated once during the conference.

The EPEA Seminar Committee will finalize their selection by the end of March and notify all who have submitted proposals of the result at that time.
